Construction News

Wake County Public School System Needs 17 New Schools By 2022

A recent article in the News & Observer reports that the WCPSS will need to construct 17 new schools by 2022 to keep up with the 32,000 new students projected to arrive by 2025. The school system will need to find land parcels to construct 8 of the 17 needed schools. There will be 10 new elementary schools, 3 new middle schools and 4 new high schools. Wake owns or has agreed to purchase land for 5 of the 10 needed elementary schools. The school board is working to determine which new school schools and renovation projects to include in a building program to be presented to the Wake County Board of Commissioners in in late April.
